Marinella Montanari

Artist and Multimedia Producer. General Director and Art Director of JOBEL ART

Marinella is an entrepreneur and producer of multidisciplinary and multimedia projects with a social and environmental impact. Her artistic experience as an actress and trainer in theatrical techniques led me to discover the tremendous impact of the arts in raising community and corporate awareness to take action to protect the planet and its inhabitants. She has built up her expertise as a producer and manager in the field, working on local and international projects with partners and communities. She works with passion and tenacity to bring the arts and artists into the areas of society that can most accelerate the socio-ecological transition: education, business, and scientific research.
